Soldiers Damage Showcase in Club Cafe

On Monday morning of this week two soldiers, partly inebriated, entered the Club Cafe here and ordered coffee. When they began to use offensive language and Mr. Pond, the proprietor, asked them to stop, they then threw the coffee cups at the show case breaking three panes of glass and ran out of the cafe without even paying for the coffee.

Going out to the highway they hailed Mr. F. Fuder who was passing in his car. Knowing nothing of their misdoing he gave them a lift down the highway a few miles. On his return to Irma he was then told of what had happened at the cafe.

The police from both Viking and the Army Camp were informed as to where the men were last seen and they were finally traced to the Kinella Hotel where capture was made. Mr. Pond will receive payment for damages.

CUTWORMS IN THE GARDEN

Practically all field and garden crops are subject to attack by cutworms in the spring. Vegetable and flower seedlings and transplants, newly emerged seedlings of shrubs and trees, young shoots of various corns, bulbs and perennial flowering plants, are all eaten by these pests, says H. McDonald, Entomologist, Insect Laboratory, Saskatoon.

Spring cutworms are fleshy, soft-bodied, dull-colored, hairless caterpillars that usually curl up and remain motionless when disturbed. When full grown they are about 1½ to 2 inches long. The upper half of the body is generally a darker shade than the under half and may vary with the different species from nearly colorless to almost black.

Most damage is caused by cutworms feeding on the stems or shoots at or just below the soil surface, and either severing them so completely or damaging them so severely that the stems fall over and die.

Poisoned bran bait is the common material used in controlling most spring cutworms that come to the surface at night to feed. The bait is easy to prepare and apply, and when properly used is very effective.

A satisfactory bait for all parts of Canada is prepared as follows: Bran, 1 gallon. Paris Green, 2 tablespoons. Water, to moisten about 1½ to 2 pints.

Mix the dry bran and paris green together thoroughly. Then while stirring the poisoned bran, slowly add water until moisture will ooze between the fingers when a handful of the bran is squeezed.

Experiments in Saskatchewan indicate that chlordane and chlorinated camphene are better poisons than paris green for the red-backed cutworm, and baits are easier to prepare. Dr. McDonald believes they should be just as satisfactory in other parts of Canada, and probably for any species for which the paris green bait is recommended.

With this bait, paris green is replaced with chlordane, 40 per cent emulsion, not less than 3 tablespoons or 1½ fluid ounces. Of, if chlorinated camphene is used, the quantity is 4½ tablespoons or 2 and one-quarter fluid ounces of a 50 per cent emulsion. Mix the water and liquid poison together thoroughly and then stir into the bran as described above.

The fresh bait should be spread just before dark on a warm evening when the temperature is 60 degrees F. or higher. If temperatures are suitable, baiting soon after a rain or an artificial watering has soaked in is especially satisfactory. Cutworms come to the surface more readily where it is damp than when the soil is loose and dry.

Bait should be broadcast thinly and uniformly over the area. The quantity given will cover about 400 square yards of garden. When spread in this way and without lumps, there is no danger to livestock, poultry or pets.

World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

CALIFORNIA HELPS CANADA

An announcement is made that 150 acres of Canada's new wheat C.T. 186, produced to be resistant to 15-B race of stem rust, was grown last winter in Southern California, and arrived in Canada in time for planting this May, and which has enabled nearly 3,000 acres to be sown this spring in Canada of this new variety.

The system of growing wheat in the winter in California more than doubles the amount of any new variety that can be produced, for it enables two crops to be grown in one year, one crop in Canada which is harvested normally in August, rushed by fast truck to California, sown immediately on land leased by the Dominion Government there and harvested there in early May and then rushed back by express truck in time for seeding in the West.

This is a remarkable innovation, but which is quite in keeping with the initiative and enterprise shown by all those scientists who are engaged in the production of new varieties of wheat for Canadian use.

It is, of course, not yet decided whether C.T. 186 will be licensed; for that decision we have to wait awhile.

GREEN FOXTAIL CONTROL

A new publication, available free upon request on control of this weed can be now obtained from this office. Briefly here are a few important particulars about green foxtail control. First this plant resembles timothy, is a prolific seeder, with seeds somewhat larger than timothy and it is spreading rapidly this municipality. It is encouraging to note that recent tests reveal that it is not difficult to control this seed if its behavior is known. Green foxtail is an annual weed and 99 per cent of its seed germinate in the first year. It usually germinates between May 15 and June 2 in the northern parts of the province. Only seeds close to the surface will germinate. Shallow fall or early spring cultivation is of doubtful value since green foxtail seeds germinate best when on soil surface. Delay summerfall operations until a crop of foxtail appears and continue cultivation as each new growth appears. Don't cultivate deeper than 3 inches. Since the seed of green foxtail is short-lived, three years at the most, then seeding down your land to forage crop for four or five years will rid it of green foxtail. Chemical control is not practical in wheat, oats or barley. Light spraying of T.C.A. can be used in flax as flax is most resistant to this chemical. The details of this can be obtained from the above mentioned bulletin.

B.C. NEEDS BERRY PICKERS

Some 400 berry and fruit pickers are needed to help harvest the heavy crops of strawberries, raspberries, cherries, etc., in B.C. This excursion is now on for women and girls. Those that are available and interested should contact their nearest National Employment Service immediately or list their names with this office.

Transportation to B.C. is given to female workers at a payment of only $10.00 and a return fare can be obtained for $5.75. Returning home dates are between August 15 and November 30. Names listed with this office will be forwarded to the Edmonton National Employment Service office. Other details on this excursion can be obtained from this office. The need is urgent for pickers. Available female workers should consider helping out this emergency.

SOIL ANALYSIS SERVICE

Farmers wishing to obtain an analysis on their soil can now use this office for this purpose. The soil samples are sent to the University Soil Dept. and a chemical test is conducted on it. The soil analysis as conducted gives only the already available nutrient in soil and not total present. In other words it's only a guide to the available minerals in your soil. It does not tell the farmer how much stored mineral there is in his soil. On the basis of this test recommendations can be general only and other such factors as physical condition of soil, etc., have to be considered. Farmers with soils that are giving them some definite problem could make use of this testing to good advantage.

Lady Wrestlers Featured on Legion Wrestling Card June 19

(From The Viking News)

Main Event, 60 min. 2 put of 3 falls — "The Lady Wrestlers in Action." Mary Jane Mull, 139, Toledo, Ohio, vs. Lilly Bitter, 137, Newark, N.J.

Once more the always popular and crowd pleasing lady wrestlers make an appearance in the great little sporting town of Viking. Two of the finest lady wrestlers in North America will feature in this hour long main event and it should be the liveliest and most hectic affair ever witnessed in Viking. Mary Jane Mull is the partner to June Byers for the World's Tag Team Championship and likes to wrestle a mean, rough, rugged style that would even put Al Mills to shame. She cares little how she wins and heaven help the referee who gets in her way! Lilly Bitter will be her opponent and she is one of the fastest, cleanest styled lady wrestlers in the world. Lilly always wrestles in her barefeet and has a style that is simply dazzling. Both girls have appeared on countless TV shows and are the very tops in lady wrestling circles. This match will be a classic for action and excitement all the way.

Semi-Wind-Up 45 min. 2 out of 3 falls, Coh Bruno, 226, Brooklyn, vs. Chief Thunderbird, 245, Brentwood Bay, B.C.

The very colorful and popular Chief Thunderbird, the greatest Indian in wrestling today will make his first Viking appearance against the villainous Coh Bruno. Bruno is a squat powerful villain who has wrestled in Viking before and fans know him well for his rough-house style and action. Thunderbird has just returned from the Coronation and will be set to give out with his war dance and his tomahawk swing if Bruno gets too rugged. Should be plenty of action and thrills in this one.

Special Event, 30 min. one fall. Rebel Russell, 243, Cheneville, Wyo., vs. Jean Baillargeon, 260, Quebec.

The special will see a very rugged and powerful Jean Baillargeon, the strongest man in wrestling, against the most hated villain in these parts—the notorious Rebel Russell of Wyoming. The Wyoming Cowboy is a tough and skilled as they come and he will mind no easy going against the mighty Jean Baillargeon and his terrific strength.

EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith

EDMONTON — Towns, villages, municipalities and municipal hospital districts throughout the province are taking another step this month towards providing citizens with low cost hospital care.

Preparations are being made to provide financial aid to pay for special hospital services to patients of the province's hospitals. These special services include certain drugs, tests and treatment not contained in standard ward care.

Already a high percentage of Alberta is receiving low cost standard ward care through the government's $1-a-day plan. It provides for the patient to pay $1 a day for standard ward care, the remainder of the actual cost to be split 50-50 by the province and the municipality or hospital district. This scheme does not include the cost of the so-called hospital extras.

At the last session of the legislature an amendment to the Hospitals Act was passed providing for the new service. Basically it will operate on the same principles as the first scheme.

Taxpayers in districts which accept the plan automatically will receive the assistance, while non-ratepayers in these areas will be able to buy annual contracts, supplementing the hospitalization contracts many of them now hold for standard ward care.

In letters sent to hospital boards, city, town, village and municipal administrations, the provincial department of health suggests that immediate action should be taken to bring the new plan into effect July 1. Districts which plan to carry out this suggestion will be selling the contracts for non-ratepayers this month.

Dr. M. G. McCallum, director of hospital and medical services, said indications are that almost all the districts in the present plan will accept the new one.

At least one district has stated it would not enter the plan at present, fearing it would be unable to bear the extra cost. Edmonton's city council, which accepted the plan recently, was told it would cost city taxpayers about $150,000 over a 12-month period. Of course, it would cost much less in the smaller rural districts and in small cities, towns and villages.

There are 100 approved hospitals in the province, including six in Edmonton and Calgary. About 80 are in rural areas, of which 57 are municipally-owned and 31 operated by one of the Catholic orders.

Sixty-five per cent of the province's villages are in areas where the $1-a-day plan has been accepted, while almost all the rural municipal districts are covered. Dr. McCallum estimated that a potential of 90 per cent of Alberta citizens could be covered, as they live where the scheme is in operation. An actual two-thirds of the population are receiving the service, he said.

The extras plan has been endorsed by the hospital association of the province. The association recommended one change, which the government planned to implement through an order-in-council. The plan can be placed in operation only where the original plan has been accepted. In addition non-ratepayers must be holders of the standard ward contracts before being eligible for contracts to cover the extras.

A daily rate has been set, representing the cost of the extra services. It varies depending on the rating of the hospital. In each case the patient pays 25 per cent of the accepted daily rate, with the local authority or hospital board splitting the remainder with the government.

Rate for an "A" hospital is $4 a day; in a "B" it is $3.20; "C", $2.40; "D", $2 and "E" $1.20. Thus a patient in a "B" hospital would pay 60 cents a day towards the services.

Included in the extras are "all hospital procedures, services, care, tests, drugs, dressings and medications as are not included in standard ward care and are necessary for the proper care, diagnosis and treatment of the patient . . ." There are some exceptions including cortisone and ACTH and some other drugs and appliances, anesthetist services and drugs placed on the market after June 30.

Patients will still have to pay for doctors' care, but the two plans will take a large burden from the shoulders of persons requiring hospitalization.

Federal Election August 10th

OTTAWA — A federal general election has been called for Monday, August 10, the first August date since Confederation.

At the same time, Prime Minister St. Laurent in his cabinet, filled seven Liberal vacancies in the Senate and announced he will kick off the election campaign June 22 at Windsor.

The 71-year-old prime minister also told newspaper men at a press conference Friday after a day-long cabinet meeting that he expects to win the election and expects to stay as head of the government for "quite some time" after it—dealing with reports of a post-election retirement.

Mr. St. Laurent also rejected suggestions of possible tax cuts before the voting, saying his idea is that tax changes announced in the last federal budget will stand.

The cabinet changes saw the retirement of Works Minister Alphonse Fournier, 60, of Hull, Que., who has been in the Commons since 1939 and who becomes a justice of the Exchequer Court of Canada, and State Secretary F. Gordon Bradley, 65, one of the prime movers of Newfoundland's 1949 entry into Confederation, who goes to the Senate.

The specific choice of August 10 was made, Mr. St. Laurent said, because it would enable the enumeration of voters to be done during June. The enumeration is the six-day job of compiling the new list of around 8,500,000 electors, and must start on the 49th day before election, by statute.

The Wheat Pool Story

At quite a few shipping points local Pool Elevators have been "plugged." This created an unfortunate condition for Pool members there who want to deliver grain to their own facilities. In some instances Pool members have asked the question "Why advertise asking for patronage of Pool Elevators when there is no room in the Pool Elevators at our point?"

It should be remembered, however, that there are 486 Alberta Wheat Pool country elevators and in many of these there is ample space for grain deliveries. Pool publicity is, therefore, directed to the farm people surrounding such delivery points.

Furthermore, a publicity program to be successful must be comprehensive and continuous. It is important that the farm people should be constantly reminded of the advantages of supporting the Alberta Wheat Pool.

This organization has been largely instrumental in keeping down costs of handling grain. Its presence and strength in an important division of the economic life in this province has prevented a drift towards monopoly practices. Pool Elevators are operated on a cost basis with excess earnings returned to Pool members. Ninety-five per cent of Alberta Pool earnings in the 1951-52 crop year went right back into the farmers' pockets.

Pool Elevator policies are based on the desires of working farmers and on experiences gained over many, many years of co-operative effort. The democratic system under which the Wheat Pool is operated makes it responsive to the aims and desires of "operating farmers."

Alberta Wheat Pool publicity has constantly followed a pattern of public education. People in villages, towns and cities are continually made aware of the vital importance of agriculture to the economy of the province and to the Canadian nation. In no other province in Canada has agriculture's importance received such a deserved measure of publicity.

"The Wheat Pool Story" is an important one. Its aim is to build a lasting and growing farmer co-operative which will be of service to agriculture in generations to come. Also to create a sympathetic atmosphere to every other farmer co-operative in this province.

The B.P.O. Elks of Irma are going to have a Grand Barbecue and Picnic at Larson's picnic grounds on Sunday, June 28, where you all can get a tasty piece of this Grand Champion calf for your supper (at a nominal charge).

Canadian currency was changed from shillings and pence to dollars and cents in 1953.

Everyone has been admiring the new postoffice lobby and the fine new boxes. For those of us who are inclined to leave the cap off the tooth paste, etc., remembering to hang on to our keys may prove a little difficult at first, but a trip or two to the office without them will help sharpen our memories.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Pond on Friday, June 12, a son, a brother for Jeannette and Laraine.

Miss Shirley Pyle who has been holidaying for the past 10 days at the home of her uncle Mr. D. Herbert of Barrhead, returned to her home here this week.

Mrs. G. Coulman, Mrs. Saxmour, Mrs. R. W. Thurston and Mrs. F. T. Thurston attended the meeting of the Wainwright Deaneary at Viking on Thursday, June 11. A very happy and worthwhile meeting was enjoyed by all the delegates from the W.A. Branches of this Deaneary.

Everyone is rejoicing over the lovely rain on Saturday. And during the past few days we have had concrete evidence that there is "more where that came from." The crops and gardens are really coming ahead and the whole countryside looks like a park.

Miss Mildred Carrington of Edmonton visited here with her sisters Mrs. A. C. Knott and Mrs. N. McMillan last week-end.

We would like to make a correction on the 4H Beef Club Achievement Day as published last week. The top calf fetched 29½¢ per lb. instead of 20¢ as formerly stated. We are sorry there was an error in the information received in regard to the birthday party for Mr. Squires. It was Canadian Bakeries who supplied his birthday cake and not McGinnis's Ltd.
